Pharmacy News

Numerous Angiotensin II receptor blocker (ARB) recalls:

In July 2018, the first of several recalls began due to unacceptable levels of NDMA, a probable carcinogen. The FDA continues to test all ARBs for NDEA, NDMA, NMBA and other potentially related impurities and drug recalls have been continuous. Please be aware of these ongoing drug recalls in case a participant or pharmacy reaches out for a medication alternative in the face of medication shortages.
